

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Events of the Past, Present, and Future Among Washington's Organizations.

D. A. R. OFFICERS ELECTED

Shakespearean Reading to the Accompaniment of Music Novel Attraction.

Scott and Shakespeare prove to be the favorite authors in literary clubs this week. A Shakespearean reading to the accompaniment of music is the novel attraction of a university organization, while Shakespeare psychology is to be studied at another society.

D. A. R. officers and delegates still continue to be elected, in preparation for the continental congress to be held here next month, and the juvenile court is not overlooked among their activities. A medal contest is in the program in one of the schools today, under the auspices of the temperance workers.

A new class in political economy is organized, and plans are being arranged for a public discussion of the question of public versus private ownership of telephones.

Philo-Classics.
The Philo-Classics will meet this afternoon with Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, at 402 Sixth street northeast. The program will include the reading of the last half of Scott's "Lay of the Last Minstrel." Mrs. W. F. Hall will act as conductor for the meeting.

W. C. T. U.
North Capitol Union, W. C. T. U., of which Mrs. B. A. Lineback is president, will hold a medal contest today at the Arthur School, under the supervision of Mrs. Frank R. Jones, superintendent of the medal-contest work of the union.

Shakespeare Society of America.
The Shakespeare Society of America will meet tomorrow evening at the Cairo Hotel, on Q street northwest, near Sixteenth street. Miss Laura Bingham, of the chair of English literature at the Bristol School, will speak on "The Psychology of Shakespeare." Mrs. Sarah M. Hill, Milton, musical director of the society, has arranged an attractive musical program.

A reception will be held by the society in honor of the Shakespearean actor, Sir Herbert Beerbaum Tree, and Lady Tree, at the Colonial School, Eighteenth and Q streets northwest, next Tuesday afternoon.

Woman's Guild.
A dramatic reading of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream," to the accompaniment of music, was the novel program offered Wednesday afternoon by the Woman's Guild of the American University.

Dr. Samuel J. MacWaters gave the reading, and Miss Josephine G. Collier presided at the piano. The auditorium was elaborately decorated, and, during the informal reception which followed the program, refreshments were served at artistically decorated tea tables, and Dr. MacWaters and Miss Collier were introduced to the audience, which included many who were prominent in Washington's social circles.

The honorary president of the guild is Mrs. Thomas H. Anderson, and the acting president, Mrs. John A. Leets.

The next meeting of the newly organized Adrienne de Lafayette Chapter of the D. A. R. will be held on March 12.

A special meeting of Adrienne de Lafayette Chapter was held Tuesday at the home of its regent, Mrs. Lowry Lincoln Morrill. The election of alternates for the congress, to be held in April, resulted as follows: First alternate to the regent, Mrs. Thomas June Kemp; other alternates, Mrs. David D. Caldwell, Mrs. Warren M. Mitchell, Mrs. Edward R. Harvey, Mrs. Louis A. Abbot, Mrs. Harry S. Ridgely, Miss Mary Louise Smith, Mrs. Frank R. Sale, Mrs. Harry B. Leary, and Mrs. George Macomber.

The officers of the chapter are: Regent, Mrs. Lowry L. Morrill; vice regent, Mrs. Thomas J. Kemp; recording secretary, Mrs. Harry S. Ridgely; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edward R. Harvey; treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Coates; registrar, Mrs. Warren M. Mitchell; historian, Mrs. Louis A. Abbot; chaplain, Mrs. Frank R. Sale.

Constitution Chapter.

The February meeting of Constitution Chapter was held at the home of the regent, Mrs. James I. Parker, 1361 Parkwood place northwest.

The main business of the evening was the election of delegates and alternates to the Continental Congress, and resulted as follows: Delegates, Mrs. James I. Parker, because of her office as regent, and Miss Elizabeth Torrey, who is a candidate for chaplain general; alternates, Mrs. Goodwin Ellsworth, Mrs. Sidney H. Phillips, Mrs. Frank T. Shull, Mrs. Howard S. Cunningham, Mrs. William C. Sanford, Mrs. Charles P. Grandfield, Mrs. Irving O. Ball, Mrs. Flora W. Patterson, Mrs. Rob Roy McKahan and Mrs. George Shull.

Mrs. Charles Windle told of the work of the juvenile court committee, and the chapter made a contribution to that cause. The chapter is planning a benefit to be given in March, in charge of the following committee: Mrs. Charles P. Keyser, Mrs. Gasch, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Ransdell and Mrs. McKahan. The program of the evening was read by Mrs. Ball on "The National Old Trails Road," who gave a very interesting description of an automobile trip last August from Hagerstown, Md., through the beautiful scenery of the Blue Ridge and Allegheny mountains to Wheeling, W. Va., pointing out the many historic spots along the way. Mrs. Phillips, in a poem, "Looking Backward," contrasted the conveniences of today with those of Washington's time. Some items of the personal characteristics of Washington were read by Mrs. Emig. Refreshments were served and a

POPULAR MEDICINE BY DR. HIRSHBERG

Intelligent Observation of Rules of Hygiene Will Decrease Illness.

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG.

Your kidneys are coupled with the bladder by a pair of horse reins, just as a double team is linked to the driver's hands. The kidneys, by a curious, inherent vitality distinctly their own, seize from the blood as it semi-circles and gyrates throughout their meshes certain fluids and solids, which it passes on down through the hollow "horse reins" into the reservoir called the bladder.

The bladder differs but slightly from the clown's "pig's bladder on a stick." The latter is stretched and thinned like a toy balloon, because it is inflated. When shrunken, in its natural condition, the bladder is like a thick woolen guiding bag.

The bladder, therefore, is only a receptacle or receiving reservoir with two openings above, one for the hollow "horse reins" of each kidney and larger outlet below, through which is discharged the kidney fluids.

Symptoms of Cystitis.

"Cystitis" is the name given to several disorders of the bladder, in which bacteria and other irritations are present. "Cystitis" means bladder, and "itis" inflammation of. When cystitis occurs the victim begins to know he has a bladder. Pain occurs, the kidney fluids burn and hurt and signs of trouble appear in one form or another.

What is to be done? The kidney fluids are alive with microbes and bacilli, so the germs must be killed. The kidney fluids burn and hurt and swollen, and this must be soothed. It is necessary to overhaul the cistern, modify the diet, eliminate the excitants and remove the bacteria.

Milk and rice, whites of eggs and a liberal allowance of water are all that ought to be taken in the way of victuals and drink for three days. If all food is stopped and rest in bed is taken, such old-time remedies as boric acid, benzoate of soda or alkaline salts will be taken. Much is required to allay the distress and pain, but something more is demanded to rid the bladder of the nests of germs aggregated there.

Use of Medicines.

Of the medicines which when taken into the stomach most harmlessly reach the kidney fluids and bladder, hexamethylenetetramine and salol are the two that destroy germs without much injury to the human tissues. Salol in five-grain doses is acted upon by the enzymes of the intestines and blood called lipase. It splits the salol into carbolic acid and salicylic acid. These two acids at once make themselves into a compound or salt and become dissolved in the kidney waters as mild germicides and disinfectants. At once they make fatal onslaughts upon the bacteria that cause cystitis.

Hexamethylenetetramine is analogous in its actions, but decidedly more powerful. As it leaves the kidneys, the kidney fluids are more efficient disinfectants, is unleashed. If the kidney fluids are acid, formaldehyde is produced. Not so, however, in a cystitis, where the kidney fluids are alkaline. In this situation, formaldehyde is present, in order to have the effects of the formaldehyde it behooves the patient to take some salt, such as acid sodium phosphate. In this fashion, just enough formaldehyde will be let loose to kill the bacteria without irritating the kidneys and yet rid them of the microbes.

Uproot the Cause.

Cystitis may also and simultaneously require injections into the bladder, either of half-strength boric acid solution, or, if acid fluids are present, 4 per cent of borax, a teaspoonful of table salt, and a few drops of glycerine to the quart of water. The treatment of cystitis cannot be completed until the cause has been uprooted and eliminated. If there is a kidney abscess, a series of boils and carbuncles, typhoid fever or other sources for the accumulation of germs, which find their way into the bladder, the treatment can do so to reduce the number of bacteria and relieve the conditions in the bladder. But it must be manifest that until the first source as a menace is wholly removed the trouble may be expected to continue.

(Copyright, 1917, by Newspaper Feature Service.)

ENTERTAINS AT SCHOOL.

To bring the teachers and members of the Cranch-Tyler Home and School Association into closer relationship, an entertainment was given for them by the association in the Tyler School last night. On the program were a Hawaiian quartet, accompanied by Herbert Ramsey, John Bixler, Randall Saunders, and Barrett Wolf; Miss Mary Newcomb, elocutionist; Harry Green, ventriloquist; A. Aldridge, soloist, and Mrs. B. F. Smart, soloist.

IT IS SERIOUS

Some Washington People Fail to Realize the Seriousness of a Bad Back.

The constant aching of a bad back, the weariness, the tired feeling, the pains and aches of kidney life may result seriously if not given prompt remedy for rheumatic pains. That has been my trouble more or less for a long time. Whenever I feel an attack coming on, I take Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give me quick relief. I have recommended them to many of my friends and they, too, have found them to be all that is claimed for them.

A Washington citizen shows you what to do. W. H. Murray, 752 Tenth St. S. E., Washington, says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be just the right remedy for rheumatic pains. That has been my trouble more or less for a long time. Whenever I feel an attack coming on, I take Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give me quick relief. I have recommended them to many of my friends and they, too, have found them to be all that is claimed for them." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the name that's on the box. Foster-Lenox Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

NEXT WEEK'S BILL OF PLAYS IN FILM

Advance Announcement of Photo Dramas in Local Theaters.

Leader.

George Beban in "His Sweetheart" is the feature photoplay at the Strand Sunday and Monday. This is the picture that recently scored a success at the Strand Theater, New York, and this will be the first time it has been presented in this city. In this thrilling drama Mr. Beban is seen as Joe, the ice man of a New York tenement district. His sweetheart is his "Maid," whom he has saved from Italy, much to the consternation of Trina, the phonemaker's daughter. Tuesday and Wednesday Owen Moore and Irene Fenwick will be pictured as co-stars in "A Girl Like That." Thursday and Friday Sessue Hayakawa will be seen in "Back to His Knees," and Saturday a picturization of Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead," with Frank Losee as "Uncle Josh," supported by Louise Huff.

Palace.

"The Eagle's Wings," the attraction at the Palace tomorrow and Sunday, is a most unusual feature, with a gripping dramatic plot. "Industrial Preparedness" is the main theme of the subject, illustrating the manner in which the mills, foundries, factories, and shops, now devoted to peaceful pursuits, may be expected to co-operate with Uncle Sam in time of unexpected war. Herbert Rawlinson, the Bluebird star, enacts the leading role in this photodrama of love and adventure, inspiring loyalty to the flag, home, and country.

Carolina.

"Broken Petters," a Bluebird photoplay, will be the attraction at the Carolina tomorrow, with Violet Mercereau playing the star part. Rex Ingram has produced his own story in a series of brilliant scenes that comprise episodes that transpire in both New York and China.

Crandall's Avenue Grand.

"The Hungry Heart," a photoplay version of the famous stage success of a generation ago, "Frou Frou," will hold the screen at Crandall's Avenue Grand on Sunday. Alice Brady being featured in the central role. This is the story of a young and frivolous woman who marries a man older than herself who loves her devotedly.

By reason of her love for gaiety, they are unhappy, and she finally runs away with a former sweetheart. How reconciliation with her husband comes after a chain of thrilling events, forms a story of great power. The supporting cast includes the names of Alec B. Francis, Gerda Holmes, Edward Langford, and George MacQuarrie. Another photoplay version of a stage success, "Marrying Money," re-titled, "Marriage à la Carte," will be shown Monday with Clara Kimball Young the featured actress. Other photoplays for the week are as follows: Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in "Seventeen," Wednesday, Miss Murray in "The Pious Girl," and Beverly Bayne and Francis Bushman in the seventh installment of "The Great Secret." Thursday, Virginia Pearson in "Sister Against Sister," Friday, Charles Hays in "The Honorable Algy," and Joe Jackson in the Keystone comedy, "The Lion and the Girl." Saturday, Douglas Fairbanks in "American Aristocracy," and Willie Collier in the comedy, "Never Again!"

Crandall's.

Virginia Pearson is the featured player in "Sister Against Sister," an entirely new photoplay which will be shown at Crandall's on next Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. Miss Pearson portrays two characters widely separated in personality. One is that of a woman reared in an atmosphere of refinement, the other a woman from the depths of the underworld. The photoplay attempts to show the effect environment has in the making of a character. The cast includes Walter Law, Irving Cummings, and Jane and Katherine Lee. "The New York Peacock," featuring Valeska Suratt, an absorbing story of a heartless adventurer who too late realizes her folly and unhappiness, will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday. This photoplay affords Miss Suratt opportunity to display a number of gowns of striking and daring beauty—a fact that will make appeal to the feminine portion of the audience. Henry Hilliard is featured in the leading male role. The story of a Russian noblewoman of alienic charms who lives only that she may obtain jewels, of which she is inordinately fond, under the title of "The Tiger Woman," will constitute the attraction for the last two days of the week. Theda Bara is pictured in the title role.

Crandall's Savoy.

"A House Built Upon Sand," a remarkable Triangle-Fine Arts subject, is announced for showing at Crandall's Savoy Theater on Sunday. This picture, in which Lilian Gish is pictured as the principal character, sets forth a gripping phase of life in the tenement districts of a great city, and is strong in its sincere, human appeal. A photoplay version of Charles Dickens' "Great Expectations," which adheres closely to the original, will be shown Monday, Louise Huff and Jack Pickford being the leading roles. Tuesday's attraction will be "Bridges Burned," featuring Olga Petrova, an adaptation from a story written by Mme. Petrova herself. The program for the remainder of the week has been announced as follows: Wednesday, Marie Doro in "Lost and Won," Thursday, William

S. Hart in "Truthful Telliver," Friday, Frank Keenan in "The Sin Ye Do," Saturday, Wallace Reid and Cleo Ridgely in "The Golden Rule." Other attractions will be shown daily in connection with these feature photoplays.

Leader.

George Beban in "His Sweetheart" is the feature photoplay at the Strand Sunday and Monday. This is the picture that recently scored a success at the Strand Theater, New York, and this will be the first time it has been presented in this city. In this thrilling drama Mr. Beban is seen as Joe, the ice man of a New York tenement district. His sweetheart is his "Maid," whom he has saved from Italy, much to the consternation of Trina, the phonemaker's daughter. Tuesday and Wednesday Owen Moore and Irene Fenwick will be pictured as co-stars in "A Girl Like That." Thursday and Friday Sessue Hayakawa will be seen in "Back to His Knees," and Saturday a picturization of Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead," with Frank Losee as "Uncle Josh," supported by Louise Huff.

Palace.

"The Eagle's Wings," the attraction at the Palace tomorrow and Sunday, is a most unusual feature, with a gripping dramatic plot. "Industrial Preparedness" is the main theme of the subject, illustrating the manner in which the mills, foundries, factories, and shops, now devoted to peaceful pursuits, may be expected to co-operate with Uncle Sam in time of unexpected war. Herbert Rawlinson, the Bluebird star, enacts the leading role in this photodrama of love and adventure, inspiring loyalty to the flag, home, and country.

Carolina.

"Broken Petters," a Bluebird photoplay, will be the attraction at the Carolina tomorrow, with Violet Mercereau playing the star part. Rex Ingram has produced his own story in a series of brilliant scenes that comprise episodes that transpire in both New York and China.

Crandall's Avenue Grand.

"The Hungry Heart," a photoplay version of the famous stage success of a generation ago, "Frou Frou," will hold the screen at Crandall's Avenue Grand on Sunday. Alice Brady being featured in the central role. This is the story of a young and frivolous woman who marries a man older than herself who loves her devotedly.

By reason of her love for gaiety, they are unhappy, and she finally runs away with a former sweetheart. How reconciliation with her husband comes after a chain of thrilling events, forms a story of great power. The supporting cast includes the names of Alec B. Francis, Gerda Holmes, Edward Langford, and George MacQuarrie. Another photoplay version of a stage success, "Marrying Money," re-titled, "Marriage à la Carte," will be shown Monday with Clara Kimball Young the featured actress. Other photoplays for the week are as follows: Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in "Seventeen," Wednesday, Miss Murray in "The Pious Girl," and Beverly Bayne and Francis Bushman in the seventh installment of "The Great Secret." Thursday, Virginia Pearson in "Sister Against Sister," Friday, Charles Hays in "The Honorable Algy," and Joe Jackson in the Keystone comedy, "The Lion and the Girl." Saturday, Douglas Fairbanks in "American Aristocracy," and Willie Collier in the comedy, "Never Again!"

Crandall's.

Virginia Pearson is the featured player in "Sister Against Sister," an entirely new photoplay which will be shown at Crandall's on next Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. Miss Pearson portrays two characters widely separated in personality. One is that of a woman reared in an atmosphere of refinement, the other a woman from the depths of the underworld. The photoplay attempts to show the effect environment has in the making of a character. The cast includes Walter Law, Irving Cummings, and Jane and Katherine Lee. "The New York Peacock," featuring Valeska Suratt, an absorbing story of a heartless adventurer who too late realizes her folly and unhappiness, will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday. This photoplay affords Miss Suratt opportunity to display a number of gowns of striking and daring beauty—a fact that will make appeal to the feminine portion of the audience. Henry Hilliard is featured in the leading male role. The story of a Russian noblewoman of alienic charms who lives only that she may obtain jewels, of which she is inordinately fond, under the title of "The Tiger Woman," will constitute the attraction for the last two days of the week. Theda Bara is pictured in the title role.

Crandall's Savoy.

"A House Built Upon Sand," a remarkable Triangle-Fine Arts subject, is announced for showing at Crandall's Savoy Theater on Sunday. This picture, in which Lilian Gish is pictured as the principal character, sets forth a gripping phase of life in the tenement districts of a great city, and is strong in its sincere, human appeal. A photoplay version of Charles Dickens' "Great Expectations," which adheres closely to the original, will be shown Monday, Louise Huff and Jack Pickford being the leading roles. Tuesday's attraction will be "Bridges Burned," featuring Olga Petrova, an adaptation from a story written by Mme. Petrova herself. The program for the remainder of the week has been announced as follows: Wednesday, Marie Doro in "Lost and Won," Thursday, William

URGES WOMEN'S WAR CORPS

Dr. C. F. Langworthy Favors Adoption of French Plan.

Dr. C. F. Langworthy, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, Department of Agriculture, has suggested the formation, in case of war, of a United States Domestic Service Corps for women.

In France one of the most successful institutions for training women is a system of god-mothers for soldiers. Each soldier receives letters and gifts and when on furlough the soldier is received in the home of the "god-mother."

The United States Domestic Service Corps, Dr. Langworthy will suggest, will be a system of god-mothers for soldiers. Each soldier receives letters and gifts and when on furlough the soldier is received in the home of the "god-mother."

The United States Domestic Service Corps, Dr. Langworthy will suggest, will be a system of god-mothers for soldiers. Each soldier receives letters and gifts and when on furlough the soldier is received in the home of the "god-mother."

FINDS PICKETING UNTIMELY

The Rev. J. L. Gordon Deplores Suffrage Practice Just Now.

Although he is an advocate of woman suffrage, and believes a later generation will point with pride to the fact that pickets stood in front of the White House and endured hardships for their cause, the Rev. James L. Gordon told his congregation in the First Congregational Church yesterday evening he seriously doubted the wisdom of putting such emphasis on the movement at the present time.

Dr. Gordon said the high cost of living was due to lack of men and women to cultivate the soil.

"There is enough uncultivated soil in the United States," he said, "to feed this and all other nations." He advised people to "go back to the soil."

MRS. G. T. GUERNSEY WOULD HEAD D. A. R.

Formally Announces Her Candidacy and Platform on Which She Will Run.

Mrs. George Thatcher Guernsey, State regent of Kansas, formally announced her candidacy today for the office of president general, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, and with her name appears a full list of candidates for the national offices. Mrs. Guernsey is endorsed by more than a thousand officers of the organization.

Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher, wife of the Senator from Florida, is candidate for the office of organizing secretary general on Mrs. Guernsey's list.

Mrs. Guernsey is endorsed by the State officers of Massachusetts, other candidates are: Miss Elizabeth F. Pierce, District of Columbia, for chaplain general; Miss Emma L. Crowell, of Pennsylvania, for recording secretary; Mrs. Robert J. Johnston, of Iowa, for treasurer general; Mrs. Woodbury Pulsifer, of Maine, for corresponding secretary general; Miss Grace M. Pierce, of New York, re-election for registrar general; Mrs. George K. Clarke, of Massachusetts, for historian general; Mrs. Benjamin D. Heath, of North Carolina, for director general; Mrs. James M. Fowler, of Indiana, for librarian general; Miss Catherine Brittin Barlow, District of Columbia, for re-election for curator general, and Miss Natalie Sumner Lincoln, Connecticut, for editor of the magazine.

Mrs. Guernsey's platform calls for the elimination of all party lines; one term of three years, with no re-election for all national officers; no mileage for officers or committee chairmen; regular board meeting to be held four times a year; a committee of appeals to be elected by congress for the adjustment of otherwise unsettled differences in State or chapters, whose decision shall be final; a readjustment for the publication of the magazine, and a fair and square deal for every daughter.

DECRIES NARROW HEADS

Character Analyst Tells Audience Wide Skulls Betoken Force.

If your head is narrow and you have a flabby handshake, there is little chance of your becoming famous as a soldier.

That is what Dr. N. W. Shefferman told an audience at the Y. M. C. A. last night in the initial address of a series on character analysis.

"Beware the narrow headed man," Dr. Shefferman said. "A man with such a head is either easily influenced or idealistic. A good wide head and broad face is indicative of an excellent fighter."

J. S. Diller, Government expert on volcanoes, will give an illustrated lecture at the association building tonight at 7:45 o'clock. Activities of Lassen Peak will be described.

The Boy Scout band contest between local musicians and Philadelphians, will be held at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick C. Howe, wife of the immigration commissioner, will preside. Sunday night there will be a mass meeting of women in the National Theater. Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada, will preside, and speakers will include Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York; Miss Maud Younger, of California; Miss Pola La Follette, of Wisconsin, and the Rev. Allen McCurdy, of New York.

ROSCOE ARBUCKLE AT BALL.

Roscoe Arbuckle, the famous film actor and known as the "fattest man in pictures," will stand right up in the front row and put his hand in yours if you come to the sixth annual reunion and "movie" ball of Moving Picture Machine Operators' Protective Union, local No. 24, in Masonic Temple, at Ninth and F streets at 9 o'clock tonight. The dancing will continue until 2 o'clock. This afternoon the Famous Players Exchange is giving a luncheon to Arbuckle in the grill room of the Raleigh.

GUESTS AT DINNER TOMORROW.

Tomorrow night the delegates will attend a dinner at national headquarters at which Mrs. Frederick